Who We Are

Reach Autism Learning is a Non-Profit Charity organization, that offers support for one on one play based support, for preschool, school age and young adults.

At Reach, our mission is simple: we are here to reach families and children living with autism. We provide educational services that allow autistic children to experience learning success. We offer practical support for parents—guiding them through the challenges of raising a child with autism. But more than that, we provide hope. We show parents that their children are capable of learning, and that they can achieve amazing things, no matter what their challenges may look like.

Andrew's Journey

Reach Autism Learning began with our son, Andrew. When Andrew was diagnosed with autism, we quickly realized how hard it was to find the right support, resources, and guidance. Like many families, we felt lost — but we also felt determined.

We created Reach Autism Learning to build what we couldn't find: a place where children with autism are understood, supported, and celebrated.

Andrew continues to inspire everything we do. His journey is the reason we started, and the reason we keep going — to help every child reach their full potential.

— With love,
Andrew's Family

The Lorne And Evelyn Johnson Foundation

Reach Autism gratefully acknowledges the financial support of the Lorne and Evelyn Johnson Foundation, a private foundation serving the people of South Saskatchewan. The Foundation was established by the late Lorne and Evelyn Johnson to respond to the changing needs and opportunities of the community and provides grants to eligible charitable organizations in culture, health, education, environment, recreation, and social sectors.

The funds that we have received have been an amazing gift to our non-profit family. We have already seen an increase in our clients that we are helping. The funds are being used for various programs that will benefit both the Autistic child and their family.

Thank you.

At Last Mountain Distillery our mission is to share Saskatchewan Spirit with the world. One of the most amazing things about Saskatchewan people and their spirit is their generosity. You go to someone's house and somehow you never leave empty handed. We give and we give and that's what our lok(e)l brand is all about.

We are thrilled to help Reach with your mission to provide educational services, that allow autistic children to experience success, as the recipient for our lok(e)l supports local program for the month of April 2022. We are very pleased to present you with the enclosed cheque:

100 Men Regina

Reach Autism would like to recognize 100 Men Regina for their generous donation and support. See below the Mission that they share with Regina:

If you are a guy who cares about your community...

If you want to be part of a powerful group of men that is committed to make a BIG impact....

If you want to mix and mingle with the community leaders of today and tomorrow...

If you want to learn more about the amazing work our local charities do...

If you want 100% of your donation to go directly to a local charity.....

then maybe you care too.

We are men of all stripes and walks of life. We are stay at home fathers, white collar business men, blue collar tradesmen, farmers, business owners, and the list goes on. Most importantly, we are all men who care.

Our understanding is that the concept for 100 Men Who Care was born in Halifax a few years ago and was fashioned after a group called 100 Women Who Care. We're are a non-organization. We are not registered; we have no directors, officers or treasurer; we have no bank account because we don't collect, spend or donate anything – it's our members who make the donations. The group and its events are run on a budget of zero by a core team of big-hearted volunteers and with the assistance of some very generous sponsors.

Craving for Apple Pie?

What kind of homemade recipes?

Why we make homemade food for autistic children?

- Autistic children can be picky too! As it is very important to teach them to independently love these foods and by helping them adjust we eliminate their picky eating habits.
- They need the right kind of nutrients to be able to focus like for example while doing our services workshops.
- These recipes will provide your child some key ideas on what to give them as a snack, breakfast, lunch and dinner. Ensuring they feel energized the next time they do their daily activities!

Back-to-School Tips for Children with Autism

Heading back to school can be exciting but also overwhelming for children with autism. With a bit of preparation and support, you can help your child feel more confident and ready for the new year.

Back to School Tips:

1. Start Routines Early

Practice the school routine before classes begin like waking up, getting dressed, eating breakfast, and packing a bag.

2. Visit the School

Familiarize your child with classrooms, hallways, and playgrounds. This reduces anxiety by making the environment predictable.

3. Use Visual Schedules

Visual aids help children understand what to expect each day. Include pictures of the bus, teacher, or classroom.

4. Communicate with Teachers

Share important details about your child's strengths, challenges, and preferred supports. Collaboration builds confidence.

5. Celebrate Small Wins

Acknowledge every positive step, from attending the first day to making a new friend.

Every child deserves a smooth start to the school year. With understanding, patience, and preparation, you can help your child thrive both in and out of the classroom.
